FERGUSON DENIES BOYCOTT ON KLAN APPOINTIVE OFFICES LEE'S REFUSAL TO RUN FILED WITH STATE TERRIFIC STORM MAY DELAY FINAL FLIGHT TO AMERICA

SAYS HIS WIFE DID NOT SAY WHAT AUSTIN PAPER SAID

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 28.—A purported interview with Mrs. M. M. Ferguson, in which she was quoted as saying that she would not permit any one known to be a Klansman to hold an appointive post at the Texas capital, was denied by former Governor James Ferguson in a statement given to an Austin newspaper, which printed the interview. "Mrs. Ferguson did not say anything to that effect. You are just trying to start trouble at a time when everything is quieting down," Ferguson is quoted as saying.

Curtain To Lower On Murder Trial

CRIMINAL COURT ROOM, CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—The curtain goes down today on another act of the Leopold-Leob murder drama, to rise again late next week for the most gripping scene—when Chief Justice John R. Caverly imposes sentence on Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb for the murder of Robert Franks. No one in close touch with the day by day action of the murder hearing cares to hazard a guess as to the outcome—whether Justice Caverly will acquiesce in the demand of State's Attorney Robert Crowe for the death penalty, or grant the pleas of Chief Defense Attorney Clarence Darrow for life in prison or take the third alternative that of declaring he is not satisfied as to the mental condition of the youths and ordering a jury to pass on their sanity.

The feeling is general that Justice Caverly will not take advantage of the third alternative.

Crowe, who so far has argued for nearly two court days, will finish the argument by noon today, he said.

Justice Caverly said he would read a few days here at his hotel to read the several thousand pages of testimony and then retire to the country home of a friend to write his decision. He expects to impose sentence late next week.

Want Rangers To Keep Down Crime

AUSTIN, Aug. 28.—Request that a special ranger be a delegate to meet in keeping order and holding down lawlessness, alleged to be on the increase in the Big Lake Oil field in Reagan county, was made by a delegation of citizens from that county to Adjutant General T. D. Barton.

General Barton said that no definite action would be taken upon the request pending an investigation of conditions in the oil field.

Barton also advised the delegation that he would send a ranger inspector from Fort McKavett, Menard county, to look over the situation.

Former Oklahoma Official Makes Bond Of $2,000

ENID, Ok., Aug. 28.—Dr. M. M. McCord, Okarche physician appeared voluntarily here last night and made bond of $1000 in each of two counts charging him with illegally selling state property while he was superintendent of the Home for the Feeble Minded.

McCord is charged with having sold 34 head of cattle and 79 head of sheep while he was head of the institution. F. B. Green, Evansville, Wis., dairyman, is charged jointly with McCord. He has not been arrested.

McCord said last night that he will be able to clear himself of the charges.

ROTARIANS HEAR CONGRESSMAN JOHNSON AT LUNCHEON

The Rotary club held its weekly luncheon at the noon hour today at the Tropic Cafe. The session was presided over by Vice President I. W. Keys, in the absence of President A. Hardy Eubanks who was attending the Ft. Worth meeting of thirteenth district Rotary officials.

E. M. Strange had charge of the program which was unusually enjoyable. A large attendance was present including many visitors.

Mrs. E. M. Strange rendered two beautiful solos in her own talented way, which were well received by those present.

Hon. Luther Johnson of Corsicana, Congressman from this district, was introduced and made the address of the occasion. He delivered a splendid address on "Our Congress and Its Character." He declared that it was now popular in many quarters to as sail Congress as a body of Bolshevicks and the only reason that it had not been called by such a name until in recent years was because the word was not in vogue. He pointed out that constructive criticism was needed and welcome at all times but that hurtful and an erroneous criticism was damaging and the ultimate result would be to impair the efficiency of the houses of congress. He showed that Congress had always been criticized and quoted from an address by John Quincy Adams of the Eighteenth Congress who stated that when Texas was admitted into the Union that it was a serious blunder which would prove a menace to the welfare of the country.

The speaker stated that if the same things were said about the Chief Executive as are said about the Legislative branch of our government that the people would not stand for it. Taxes, he said, were the cause of the attack, it being generally believed that the law making body imposes taxes on the people to pay. Information is needed to correct the fault and the newspapers have been slow to give the acts of Congress the space which is given them in England for example. He pointed out that in that country the interest of the individual is buried in the interest of the country. In this nation, the interest of the individual predominates above society. A court tries a case in England and the usual thing is to find the individual guilty while in this country the general rule is that he is freed. Juries are thanked when they turn a man loose but seldom given an expression of gratitude when found guilty. He urged the spirit of fairness and intelligence to prevail in bringing about a better condition of affairs and a happier nation.

WEATHER BUREAU EXPECTS NEW STORM IN TROPICS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The Weather Bureau here expects a new tropical disturbance, blowing off the lesser Antilles, to waste itself in the unfrequented section in the South Atlantic and not be felt along the North Atlantic coast, it is stated. The new disturbance centered during the night between Dominica and Antigua.

Eubanks Discusses Use of Emblem At Ft. Worth Meeting

Hardy Eubanks, President of the Mexia Rotary Club and Secretary J. W. Elliott were absent from the luncheon here today on account of having been called to a meeting of the Thirteenth District by Governor H. Rogers.

The district will be in session two days.

A Comprehensive program has been planned and Mr. Eubanks is on the program to discuss the proper use of the Rotary Emblem and the affect of Rotary International on the business world.

THREE MAY DIE AS RESULT OF TANK BLOW UP TODAY

DES MOINES, Aug. 28.—Ten persons were injured seriously and one woman reported buried in the debris, and several other persons are said to be slightly injured when an ammonia tank in a grocery store exploded under the sidewalk here this morning. Three of the injured may die.

Homeward Bound Ford Denies He Gave Interview

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 28.—Henry Ford, homeward bound on his yacht in Lake Ontario, used the wireless last night to repudiate an interview defending the Klan, purported to have been given out by him in Montreal.

"Gave no interview to any one. Did not discuss the Klan in any manner whatsoever. Please make absolute denial of the false report," said the manufacturer's message to officials at his Dearborn office.

Ford officials on learning of the story doubted its authenticity and promptly wirelessly the manufacturer.

5,000 Hear Jack Walton's Address

PERRY, Ok., Aug. 28.—The largest crowd that ever attended a political meeting here heard former Governor Jack Walton speak last night. The crowd numbered approximately 5,000.

Walton devoted most of his speech in defending his administration while governor and made a mild attack against the Klan.

LOOT IS SOUGHT IN BIG MAIL ORDR HAUL

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—While William F. Fahy, expert sleuth of the post office department rested in the Kane county jail on charges of being the head of the gang which carried out the $2,000,000 mail robbery at Roundout, Ills., last June, apparently making no effort to obtain bail, operatives today renewed their efforts to discover the whereabouts of the loot.

Fahy and James Murray, Chicago underworld character also under arrest, are believed to have taken most of the money in the excitement that followed accidental shooting of one member of the gang by another.

A search for safe deposit boxes in Fahy's name proved futile yesterday, the only box found containing nothing more than insurance policies and a few personal documents.

Operatives today planned to search further for women in the case. Mrs. Fahy, wife of the detective, slipped into her home under the very eyes of detectives and then left, taking with her a sheaf of documents. She has not been found since.

MURDER CHARGES FILED AGAINST MAN AFTER SHOOTING

FT. WORTH, Aug. 28.—Charge of murder was filed against Jess Teacock, 45, following the fatal shooting of his wife, 22, in the apartment of the divorced wife here this morning. According to Teacock's story to officers, his second wife, from whom he was separated, came to the apartment of Teacock's first wife, who was divorced three years ago and who was keeping the two years old child of Teacock and wife No. 2, and started an argument about the custody of the child. The woman opened fire on him with a revolver, Teacock told the officers and he wrested the gun away and shot her accidentally. The first Mrs. Teacock and the baby were in a downstairs room at the time of the shooting.

SOME MELON.

AUSTIN, Aug. 28.—A seventy-five pound watermelon cannot be refused, especially in this sort of weather. John M. Scott, commissioner of insurance, was the recipient of that amount of Texas fruit recently, a gift from the Knights of Pythias Home at Weatherford, where he had been director for fifteen years.

SAYS FORD FLUSHED.

HOUSTON, Aug. 28.—"Henry Ford has made a grave mistake in Defending the Klan," R. B. Creager, republican state leader, declared here in commenting upon the auto manufacturing speech.

"Mr. Ford has been misled by the people by the public statements of the Klan," Creager said.

TWO ARE KILLED

DES MOINES, Aug. 28.—Two small girls were killed and twelve other persons were injured when an ammonia gas tank exploded in the basement of a grocery store near Fort Des Moines army post this morning.

OKlahoma Bureau For Veterans Is Opened To Serve

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Aug. 28. Oklahoma has been chosen as the state office of the veterans bureau under the recent reorganization plan for the bureau, according to word received here today.

The selection was made by Director General Hines in Washington. The Oklahoma City bureau will not only care for Oklahoma but a portion of Texas as well. Oklahoma service men will hereafter bring their bureau matters to the Oklahoma City bureau instead of to the Dallas, Texas, bureau as has heretofore been done, the announcement said.

SUCCESSOR WILL BE MADE NEXT THURSDAY IN DALLAS

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 28.—The way was cleared for the selection of a republican gubernatorial candidate with the arrival here at the secretary of state's office of the formal declaration of the place by T. P. Lee of Houston. The selection of Lee's successor will be made at a session scheduled to start in Dallas September 5 following the democratic meeting here September 2.

Americans Win Against Wales

ON BOARD THE BERGENGARIA

Aug. 28.—"What will the Prince of Wales spring for his fellow passengers as a treat on the last night aboard?"

This question was consuming the feminine bevy as they anticipated—most of them—their last evening with the heir to the British throne. He had been a good fellow and they wanted one more play with him before he left the boat tomorrow.

After all his careful preparations, encouragement and training the Prince's team had lost in the heralded tug of war with equally matched men of Yale and Harvard. As a matter of fact, tug as they would the Britishers, mostly members of the Wales party, could not match the motive power of the American athletes on the polished deck.

Much of the time yesterday Wales devoted to the Berengaria's equipment. Accompanied by the captain of the ship he toured the engine room, the printing office and also visited the hospital room where operating is done when necessary.

When the physician in charge informed his Royal visitor that an operation had been performed there two months ago, the Prince rapped on a wooded door panel.

"I'm touching wood," he said. "Let's hope there will be none this trip."

Drowned Bodies Not Recovered

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Aug. 28. A thorough search of the Canadian river near Spencer yesterday afternoon failed to reveal the bodies of Charles Keller and his two sons, believed to have drowned themselves.

Keller left his home last Friday after having acted strangely for several hours. His wife sent their two sons, 7 and 16, in pursuit. None ever returned.

Mrs. Keller did not report their disappearance until yesterday because she had been confined at home with illness.

Keller had $125 with him when he left, his wife said.

RETURNED TO MEXIA AFTER THIRTY THREE YEARS IN OKLAHOMA

W. J. Cook and family left Mexia about 33 years ago and went to Oklahoma where they have lived until a few days ago, when they returned to Mexia to again take up their residence here.

Mr. Cook is a building contractor, and will pursue that business here. Mrs. Cook is a sister of W. D. Pittman. They have a daughter, Mrs. Carpenter, bookkeeper with the Berry-Barnett Grocery Company, who went up to Oklahoma to accompany them "home."

We welcome this good family back to a different Mexia than that which they left a third of a century ago.

Congressman Luther Johnson returned to Corsicana this afternoon following his visit here in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Berry and after addressing the Rotarians at noon.

GREAT SEA DOGS IN PORT AFTER LASHING IN STORM

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Two great ocean liners battered by giant seas in a terrific storm which raged in the Atlantic Tuesday were in port here today while more than fifty of their passengers suffered from injuries when they were thrown about by the force of great waves which all but engulfed the ships.

The Arabic of the White Star line which radiated for ambulances to meet her at the dock, was the most severely hit and twelve of her passengers were taken to hospitals at once when she docked late yesterday. Twenty-four others were treated by surgeons and taken to their homes or hotels.

The Homeric of the same line also was hard hit and seven of her passengers were injured.

The Arabic was a veritable hospital ship as she steamed into port, more than three score of her passengers stretched out on mattresses on deck.

Sea captains said the storm was the worst they had encountered and additional stories of the fury of the hurricane were expected as other liners limped into port.

Shipping men feared that smaller vessels caught in the storm may have suffered even more severely than the big liners.

A new storm was reported moving northward from the West Indian hurricane zone.

The Danish steamer Nordfærø, en route from South American ports reported that her captain had been washed from the bridge and lost.

The captain of the Doherty tanker Cerro Ebanco also was blown from his bridge but managed to cling to a lower deck rail. A member of the crew was blown overboard and lost.

Passengers of the Arabic told a thrilling story of hours of terror at sea when the storm struck the big liner. So great was the force of the wind and waves that the captain finally decided to leave in the wind and ride out the gale.

Bulk heads were smashed, cabins flooded sections of the ship's hull torn away and many ventilators blown loose.

Passengers, many of whom were sick in their berths, were hurled to the floor and many of them struck by flying furniture and timbers.

The storm came on at 35 miles an hour Tuesday, a huge wave breaking over the ship and nearly engulfing her. Life boats torn away and many windows smashed. Tons of water entered the vessel, some of the waves even penetrating the engine room.

One fireman dashed against a beam and his back broken.

A seaman, making his way along the wave-washed decks, was washed overboard and then hurled back.

The same wave smashed through the lounge room where Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Dickens of La Crosse, Wis. were sitting with their children.

Dickens and one of his sons were swept clear of the room and to the deck, but managed to keep from going overboard by clinging to a life boat.

Trouble between the State of Maryland and Prince Bibesco, Rumanian Minister to the United States, accused of speeding, has been ended by a letter of regret from the Prince and a promise to speed no more. U. S. Senator Carter Glass, of Virginia, has retired to his country home, near Lynchburg, for two months' rest ordered by his physician. James Eads Howe, of St. Louis, "millionaire hobo," grandson of the builder of the first bridge over the Mississippi, at St. Louis, has been married there to his secretary, Miss Ingebert Soronson. U. S. Senator James Couzens, backed by La Follette in his race for re-election, and whose Republicanism has been questioned by his enemies because of his affiliation with the La Follette bloc in the Senate, will support President Coolidge in the coming election.

storm was felt the ship's surgeon organized a volunteer hospital crew and ordered whiskey distributed to those most severely drenched. There were 676 passengers aboard and not one of them escaped shock from the force of the storm.

Captain Metcalfe of the Homeric said the storm was severe for about six hours and that at times the wind seemed to blow from all points of the compass.

At times the wind reached a velocity of 90 miles an hour and the waves were from 40 to 65 feet high.

The Giuseppe Verdi of the Italian trans-Atlantic line also was caught in the storm and A. L. Mohler, former president of the Union Pacific railroad struck his head on a chair when thrown down.

The Arabic came from Hamburg, via Southampton, Cherbourg and Halifax and it was between the latter port and New York that she encountered the hurricane.

Captain Hickson described the storm as the worst he ever experienced.

"Standing on the bridge," said the captain, "I figured that the crest of the waves was 65 feet above the trough of the sea. When I had to look up to see the top of a huge comb that broke over the crew's nest, 25 feet above me."

"The ship was awash fore and aft with hundreds of tons of water surging along her decks."

It was this huge wave that did most of the damage to the ship.

Hugh E. Mackie of Los Angeles was sitting in the lounge with his wife storm waves by going with his wife and 9-year-old daughter when the wave struck.

Passengers and furniture were thrown into tangled confusion, he said, and several persons were injured.

The Mackies remained pinned behind a settee for several hours fearing to move lest they be struck by flying furniture.

Texas Company Is Now Paying For All Pipe Line Runs

The Texas Pipe Line Company is now paying for all oil runs in its lines in this field and in all other East, Central and North Texas producing districts.

The order was effective Tuesday morning.

Up to Wednesday afternoon none of the other pipeline companies had announced any change in their production policies, though the impression was general that the change would be general.

The Texas Company is now paying $1.50 for the top grades of North, East and Central Texas oil. No announcement was made in Tuesday's order as to what course would be followed with the 50 per cent of runs that had been stored by the company. At the same time of the production the company retained an option to purchase stored oil.

The Magnolia, which pays the lowest price for crude, has never prorated. Neither has the Gulf, which pays the poster price, nor the Humble, whose prices are in between. The Texas Company action leaves only the Prairie and Sinclair holding to this policy in North Texas.

Crowe Prepares Greatest Speech

By Edward C. Deer
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, Ill., August 27.—State Attorney Robert E. Crowe will make his final demand today that Justice John R. Caverly send Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb to the gallows.

Far into the night Tuesday Crowe worked putting the final touches on his preparation for his great speech in his career. He has not exhausted his stock of invectives and, if he carries out his intention, today's portion of his death plea will be even more biting and intense than his previous efforts.

"I am determined that the wealth of these two young men's families and the peculiar philosophy of their counsel, Clarence S. Darrow shall not save these murderers from hanging, for any individuals ever deserved to hang, Loeb and Leopold do," Crowe told the United Press.

The State's Attorney expects to finish his argument some time this afternoon.

At the conclusion of the argument Justice Caverly will announce a continuance of at least a week, if he carries out his plans. He and Mrs. Caverly will leave Chicago soon afterwards for an undisclosed destination in order that he may study the evidence without interruption.

Hon. I. W. Keys is among fans attending the baseball game at Corsicana today.

Miss Clara Parsons of Waco is a delightful guest in the home of Mrs. E. M. Strange of this city.

A. H. Eubanks and J. W. Elliott are Ft. Worth visitors today.

Rev. and Mrs. Winnif Coolidge were visitors here today and while in town were guests of Dr. Duke Pittman at the Rotary luncheon. Rev.

Winn is pastor of the Coolidge Methodist church, one of the liveliest congregations in the Corsicana district.

Jesse McLendon, President of the Salvation Army Directory Board here and other directors are being notified that Lieut. Colonel Edwy White of Milwaukee has been appointed successor to Lieut. Colonel George Wood as Commander of the Southwestern Division of the Salvation Army, and will be installed on September 3.

Announcement was made also that effective Sept. 1, the Southwestern Division, which consists of the states of Texas and Louisiana and part of Arkansas, will be divided, and a new territory formed, to be known as the Gulf Division.

The new Division will be composed of the entire state of Louisiana and a string of South Texas counties on the Gulf coast.

Houston, Texas will be headquarters of the new division. Adjt. Charles Hepper who now is in Detroit, Mich., has been appointed Commander of the Gulf Division and will be installed the first week in September.

Colonel Alexander Damon, of Chicago, Chief Secretary of the Salvation Army in the Central Territory, will conduct the installations of the two new division commanders.

Other Texas cities to be placed under the jurisdiction of Houston headquarters are Beaumont, Port Arthur, Orange and Galveston in addition to all Salvation Army activities in cities and counties along the Gulf coast.

Salvation Army officers from all cities of Texas and Louisiana will gather at Dallas, Friday, Aug. 29, for the annual Divisional Congress and officers' council lasting four days. Many transfers of corps officers are to be made, Colonel Wood announced, and the officers will go from the council to their new assignments.

A gigantic citizens' appreciation meeting to honor Colonel Wood is being planned by Dallas civic leaders. This meeting will be held in the City Temple Tuesday night, September 2. Representatives of the city, county and the states of Texas and Louisiana are on the program. Edward M. Cane is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

NATURE BUILT LARGEST GAS TANK IN THE WORLD

Mother Nature supplies both the gas and the holder in a remarkable structure near Springfield, N. Y., 25 miles south of Buffalo says the Texas Public Service Information Committee.

The "tank" resembles a gigantic sponge in a glass jar. A number of small connected underground cavities, enclosed in a shell of marvelous stone, make up this natural gas holder which has a capacity forty times as much as any man-made gas tank. The natural tank will hold more than 100,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

Originally the center of the Bon-natural gas field, now depleted, the tank is used as a holder for gas from other wells. The natural gas is pumped in during the summer for the use in the winter, when the demand exceeds the supply.

The Zou field was first developed in 1907. By 1918 the supplies of natural gas had receded below the point of usefulness and as an experiment 15,000,000 cubic feet of gas from other wells was pumped in. During the following winter the gas was pumped out, and the meter measurement showed that none had been lost. Since then as much as 250,000,000 cubic feet at one time have been stored in this unique tank.

GAS SHUT OFF SUNDAY

On account of the Lone Star Gas Co. putting their mains in shape for the winter, they will shut off the gas from eight o'clock Sunday morning until five o'clock in the afternoon August 31, 1934—Mexican Oil and Gas Co. 2813

HOME DRESSMAKING

(Copyright 1934 by Pan-Art Service, Inc.)

The Plait Sets a Definite Vogue

A Blouse for Early Autumn

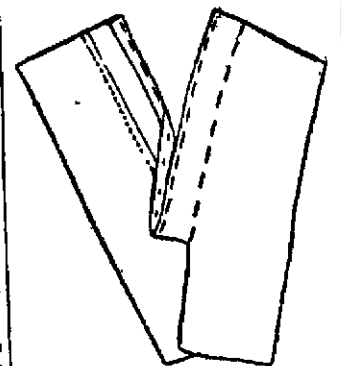

The plait is one of the trimming notes that has come to stay, for it is as strongly accented in advance modes for fall as it has been in the styles of the passing season. This design is suitable to reproduction in any of the silks, satins or crepes.

Plaits raise this simple Paris-design blouse to a high degree of distinction. They are arranged in groups down either side of the front in an unbroken line the band which fits the blouse to the hips about the waist extending only around the sides and back.

The neck is finished with a standing collar and the long sleeves are trimmed with urn-back cuffs. The waists in the sleeves are finished with self-facings, as shown in the illustration. The continuous placket is not difficult to make, but it requires care. After the sleeve has been slashed out a facing twice the width of that the finished facing is to be, allowing 1/4 of an inch for the seam and turning. Baste the stitch the right side of the facing to the right side of the sleeve in a straight continuous line from end to end of the seam. Make the seam just as narrow as it is possible to make it, then fold under the unsewed edge of the facing about 1/4 of an inch and baste.

Next, crease the seam toward the facing and baste down the edge of the fold so that it covers the seam. Baste from the top of the left-hand portion of the placket to the end of the slash only. Do not continue the basting on the right-hand side. Crease to the exact center of the entire facing and baste the crease from end to end. The work may now be finished with fine hemming stitches. Buttons are worked in the cuffs, or loops may be used. Worn with a plaited skirt of crepe, flannel or cashmere, this blouse makes a dressy costume, yet it is appropriate for sports wear. Plaits are liked more than ever by the designers of clever garments because there is perhaps no other form of trimming so susceptible to variation without adding considerably to the expense of a garment.

Continuous placket for sleeve opening

If desired the back of the blouse may be plaited in the same way, but this is not advisable unless the wearer of the blouse is built upon slender lines. If preferred the high collar may be omitted and the neck cut in V-shape underfaced and rolled back to form revers.

COMING WEDDING TO JOIN FAMED MEXICAN FAMILIES

(By International News Service)
NOGALES, Ariz., Aug. 28.—Two of the most prominent families in Mexico will be united in Guaymas, Sonora, Mexico, when the marriage of Miss Anita Maytorena, of this city, to Antonio Villaseñor, Mexico City banker, takes place September 15. Miss Maytorena is a niece of Pepe Maytorena, former Governor of Sonora and now a resident of Los Angeles, California.

BIKE VS. BOULDER.

DALLAS, Aug. 28.—Kind-heartedness of Bobby Trample, 12, for Fort Worth, landed the youngster in an emergency hospital here with a flock of bruises after his bike came a cropper on the Dallas-Fort Worth pike.

His mother had given him three dollars to finance his trip to Dallas on the interurban. Bobby's brother could not go along, so Bobby split the money with him and decided to make the trip on his bicycle.

En route he had a collision with a boulder, and was brought here by a motorist. Hospital attaches financed his return trip to Fort Worth via jitney.

THE WORLD FLIGHT

The U. S. world flight aviators are due to start on their last perilous leap to the American continent today. The outcome of the flight will be watched with interest. The value of great achievements is seldom known to the generation that lives during its accomplishments and just what benefit to humanity the world tour will be only time can prove.

It has been said that tragedy is an almost inseparable companion of great achievement. Success in perilous enterprises is usually precluded by the death of men who failed, or is accompanied by the loss of life of some of those who brought it about. The development of the airplane cost many lives. Magellan whose ships first navigated the globe was himself slain in an obscure skirmish in the Philippines before the voyage was two thirds done. It will be both pleasing and surprising if the encircling of the earth by air should be completed without being marred by the sombre touch of tragedy.

There have been numerous narrow escapes. The U. S. squadron stated after the most careful preparations of men and machines, despite which a series of accidents befell its leader until he and a Texas boy, his companion in his plane, narrowly escaped death in the frozen northwest. After successfully crossing the Pacific and the continents of Asia and Europe, another member of the squadron was forced down in the Atlantic and was fortunate to escape alive.

Though there of other nations started out with single machines and with less extensive preparations and, like the Americans, have met with accidents and troubles galore, none of them have lost their lives so far though one by one they have been eliminated from the race after some narrow escape.

Reagan County is now going through some of the experience Mexia passed through in the early days of the oil boom. The Rangers are asked for there and are undoubtedly needed. Such incidents may open the eyes to those who oppose the Ranger force and say they will do away with it and cause them to calculate long and seriously before they dispense with this needed branch of our law enforcement bodies. Of course, the Ranger force is not perfect, but under conscientious and intelligent leadership that watches its make up carefully and ousts all unworthy members, it will serve a purpose in the future in this big state just like it has in all the harrowing hardships of the past.

Parents should warn their children against the destruction of property. The Hughes Park play apparatus that has brought so much joy to hundreds of boys and girls this Summer is being demolished rapidly by thoughtless urchins. According to R. D. Moran of the city government, the property has almost been ruined and will be before the end of the fall, if parental advice is not administered promptly and properly.

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

THE AVERAGE CITIZEN.

Seemingly oblivious to the fact that he, himself, is alone responsible for the mounting size of his annual tax bill, the average citizen is attaining a state of mind where he is exerting merely a negative influence in public affairs. Because he has to pay so much to operate his government, he takes it out in muttering about cost, when, either by commission or omission, he alone authorized the expenditures. He castigates and condemns the tax as a burden and collects for doing nothing more than the work he, himself, imposed upon them. Through his halcyon he has absolute control, yet, while costs of government, county, city, district, and State keep piling up beyond all reason, he permits irrelevant issues to distract his vision, knowing all the while that taxes, like a cancerous disease, is eating at the vitals of industry.

When we contemplate the fact that the per capita annual tax in Texas has leaped from $21.07 in 1912 to more than $75.00 in 1924 it is, at least should be, enough to compel us to halt and debate the wisdom of our course. It is were possible for the book of the State and local government to be audited and, a few weeks before election, the items of expense and the object of such expenditures published so that every voter would know where, when and how his tax money was being used and who is responsible there would quickly follow such an audit of the process of public expenditure a would a tonish no one quite so much as the average citizen himself.

hardly one voter in ten thousand has the remotest idea of how much money is collected, how it is disbursed, or what the real benefits it any, to the public. Being uninformed he has no way of gaining a clear conception of the exact situation. Otherwise he would surely act differently.

One of the leading causes for inflation demands upon tax payers is the one of among other communities. Let some wealthy city start some new fangled service in government and in a remarkably short time less fortunate communities are adopting it whether it can be afforded or not. Yet we know full well that while some things may be justifiable in one community they may lead to bankruptcy in another—Willacy's Facts and Fiction.

State Democratic Committee Called To Meet at Austin

The democratic state executive committee will meet at the Stephen F. Austin hotel in Austin next Monday at 10 a. m., according to Secretary Joe Hale who yesterday received the call by wire from Chairman Frank C. Davis of San Antonio. Mr. Hale will submit to the committee one complete set of returns from the 332 counties of Texas on the run-off primary, and also his figures from duplicate returns which he has asked the county democratic chairman to send him. This is the first time he has asked for duplicate returns. He expects to have his figures ready by Saturday afternoon to check with the committee figures from the official returns, which he will not open except in the presence of the committee.

At the last meeting of the executive committee a sub-committee was appointed to make arrangements for the state convention to be held at Austin next Tuesday, and to recommend temporary officers. This committee will be out Monday.

Mr. Hale said that he did not know what action would be taken for the protest filed last week against the committee reporting on the nomination of Mr. Ferguson. The protest, held that both Mr. Ferguson and Mr. Robinson were ineligible for the nomination.

DID MILE SUZANNE'S COURAGE FAIL?

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—One of the most unusual and unexpected happenings of the month of August was the defeat of Mile Suzanne Lenglen in the middle of the Wimbledon tournament and the withdrawal of her entry before the Olympic tennis championship in Paris.

Her defeat at Wimbledon looked like a final blow to her tennis career, but she had claimed a world championship in tennis with a record of 11 titles. She had won the Wimbledon title in 1919, 1922, 1923, and 1924.

TOM KINGSTON.

Atlanta, Ga., now offers for attention the newest boy prodigy, Tom Kingston, fourteen. According to Dr. Wesley Peacock, the lad has the mentality of an extremely bright youth of nineteen, and, although he has another year in Boys' High School, he has been invited to enter Columbia University, New York City. He is a healthy, normal boy and very freckled.

Further play that were offered in the Olympic matches by elimination it might be advanced that she was physically unfit, as she claimed, or that she is through as a champion player. It is all up to the individual to form an opinion.

Atlanta Rows Over Women's Knickers

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 28.—The war against women's knickers has reached Atlanta.

It all was precipitated by two wives who filed petitions for divorce because of this much-discussed piece of garment. One wanted her freedom because her hubby became rather rough after she donned knickers, the other because her husband used violence when she refused to wear them and hike around the world with him.

While the elite of Atlanta worried little about the Courts official decisions to be handed down in these cases, members of this circle did have considerable to say about "women's rights" and their "freedom."

"Let them wear knickers," said Mrs. Perry Adair, Southern social leader. "They lead to a more natural life for women and girls."

"I believe in skirts for women," declared Mrs. Norman Sharp, president of the Atlanta Woman's Club. "Trousers for women are unbecoming and unsuitable."

"They are all right in their place," said Principal Llewellyn Scott, of the Washington Seminary. "They should not be worn on the streets. Too many girls wear trousers generally and with the full intention of attracting attention."

EAST TEXAS LOOP CHAMPS WIN EXCITING BATTLE IN OILERS' HOME TOWN, 6-4

Fans from Mexia and other Texas Association points flocked Wednesday to see the stellar work of Pop Jackson and other Tyler Trojans when they defeated the Corsicans, club of the Texas Association. About 500 Tylerites witnessed the game, marking the opening of the seven day series, and participated in the demonstrations prior to the game and contributed the largest volume of left noise at the conclusion when they left for their homes, carrying the bacon with them. At Tyler, last night, it is safe to believe that the shouting continued until the tiny houses of the morning. Mexia fans were surprised at the outcome.

The crowd gathered to see the game was estimated at from 1500 to 4000.

Tyler won the spectacular ball game by a score of 6 to 4. "Pop" Jackson was wholly responsible for four of the six runs and four of the first five, the other coming in the ninth after the issue for the day had already been settled.

Goobert Hollis was manager Vann's selection for the day. Hollis, as a rule, a great pitcher, made three mistakes today when in tight places. He pitched three balls that should never have been pitched. He pitched three balls that a wise hurler would never have thrown and the three pitched balls cost Corsicans a bad game, despite their super and almost successful efforts to come back, for the Oilers fought a game uphill fight, but the 5 run handicap was too much even for the game efforts of the Oilers.

Hollis started well. He retired the first two men in the first. Inning rather easily and seemed to have considerable stuff. His curve ball seemed to be breaking in a splendid fashion. Williams, the third man up, hit a high fly to left-center, which should have been a fairly easy out, but it went for two bases.

Then up stepped Mr. Jackson, a gentleman of 41 summers who still has the speed of many of the youngsters. Hollis got in a hole on the crafty old gentleman. The count grew to three and one, then to three and two. Now Hollis sent up a grounder, and away the spear sailed over the left field fence, a crashing line drive, the blow accounted for two runs.

In the second stanza Hollis got in a hole on "Pop" Jackson. He also broke one squarely over the middle for this old man. Result, another home run over the left field fence, being fair by barely a foot. In the third stanza Donaldson singled, but Longnecker and Williams were retired in order. Now came "General Stonevall" again. One ball, over the outside. Jackson took it but took a cut at the next curve. Now Hollis endeavored to breeze one by the veteran. It was a decision that really cost Corsicans the ball game, for once more the grizzled veteran who started his baseball career in 1921, took a toe-hold and sent the horsehide sailing over the garden wall, while the score board in left field announced that the visitors' total for the day had mounted to five. And when the next innings began the

THE BABY

It is to be expected that bottle fed infants will gain as rapidly as those who are nursed?

They seldom do so during the first month; after that time under favorable circumstances the gain is usually quite as regular, and during the latter half of the first year it is likely to be more continuous than in a nursing infant, because the latter usually loses weight at the time of weaning.

A few weeks is required for the digestion of the infant to become accustomed to cow's milk, and until this is accomplished it is necessary to make the milk very weak or the child's digestion will be upset.

PARIS STYLE HINTS

By ALICE LANGELEIR,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, Aug. 23.—In the matter of fashionable fabrics, kasha-cloth seems to be an outstanding feature of all the new collections now being shown.

Rodier, Paris' famous fabric maker, is showing three kinds of kasha this season—kasha-duvetine, ziblikasha and kashadrap. They make up the bulk of all the smart frocks and coats that will be worn for winter. Patou has really made more variety by employing different kinds of embroidery on the material itself. He is using the plaid kasha for all manner of sport costumes and again for jumpers to match tailored costumes. Kasha appears in a frock embroidered in Indian design. In another it is corded and quilted and in still another it is embroidered in metal threads.

For three-piece costumes the kasha plaids are combined with one-tone kasha. The plaid is also used extensively for winter coats.

A new panne velvet to imitate leopard and tiger-skin is a novelty of the season. Lenief uses it for a dress and the lining of a coat. He is also using some charming velvets with colored stripes for afternoon gowns. Velvet gives promise to be very popular for afternoon as well as evening frocks. Every designer is using it in every color. Evening dresses are often of radium panne in delicate colors, hyacinth blue, geranium pink and soft green. Lenief is using a good deal of black velvet often trimmed in bright crimson with gold embroidery. Ottoman silk appears in long coats and jackets.

Tollman is showing much lace dyed in pastel shades and silver and gold gorgeously embroidered in multi-colored spangles in flower design for evening wear. Another house is featuring a chiffon gown painted in curious sunflower designs which shades from the most delicate tones of red to palest pink. Silver cloth is the summer lame par excellence and silver remains as the foundation in the form of underslips which gleam through the material in a fascinating manner. An evening gown of silver embroidered fillet over a silver slip and another of gold tulle over a gold slip are striking in the use of these fabrics.

Never hold a nail for your wife to strike it.

NEW FOOTBALL RULES AFFECT STYLE OF PLAY

Teams Using Shift Formation and Forward Pass May Have to Change.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Changes in the football rules set out in the latest edition of the Football Guide will be studied with a great deal of interest by those teams which have perfected shift formations and those which have developed the forward pass to its highest art.

Eleven like those representing Penn State, an adept at passing, and Georgia Tech, which has evolved and used for years a shift play which has caused a great amount of criticism, undoubtedly will find it to their good fortune to study carefully the words written into these sections governing these styles of play.

Other changes have been written into the code, but these probably are the most important, in the opinion of good judges of the game.

The Tech shift is one which was devised and put into execution by John Heisman when he first started the "Golden Tornado" on its way to national attention. It consists of a jump by practically the entire team, and the ball is snapped in such perfect time with the movements of line and back that the play has caused great mental distress on the part of the officials who were not familiar with it. Frequent penalties have been inflicted on the Georgians when playing in territories where the formation was not so clearly understood.

In attempting to iron out this sort of play, the rules committee also took under consideration that part of the text which permitted one player to be in motion behind the line of scrimmage. The result of this often was the spectacle of some halfback cutting a wide arc behind the forwards, yelling a conglomeration of sounds as he ran, finally bisecting the arc behind the center to receive the ball and shoot into some place selected by signal.

Under the new rules the shift play is permitted, but every man engaged in the formation must have stopped long enough to satisfy the official in charge that he was standing still when the ball was snapped. This puts the burden squarely on the official, and whether the captain of the opposing team likes it or not his protest will have to yield to what the judge of play says.

In the new rules written into the section allowing use of the forward pass players of the team making the pass who are ineligible to receive the ball must keep out of the way of the defenders under penalty of interfering with the maneuver. This was written in, it was explained to prevent formations made for the purpose of screening the pass. Several teams became adept at covering the actions of a clever forward passer.

A new section also is devoted to the use of braces. Shoulder braces must be made of material not deemed heavy enough to cause damage to the anatomy of opposing players, or the men wearing them will

TINSELS LEND THEIR RADIANCE TO FORMAL OCCASIONS

FASHIONS and functions have a way of reflecting each other's characteristics. Judging by the advance reports this will be a season of unparalleled brilliance, for never have fabrics been as gorgeous as those originated for the Fall and Winter.

Tinsels, especially, will lend their brilliance to formal occasions this winter. There are tinsels in gold and silver, tinsels on satin surface, on crepe grounds, and printed tinsels. Particularly favored for evening wear are the tinsel brocades, such as used in this elaborate and beautiful evening mantle, which combines a blue and silver brocaded upper portion, with a flounce and lower sleeves of plain blue. The blue is one of the new rich Chinese blues, called Mandarin, and the omnipresent Chinese influence is also apparent in the wide, loose sleeves. Ermine adds its richness to the ensemble.

The notable features about the new tinsel fabrics according to Henri Creange, Cheney authority, is that their threads are so heavily plated that the chances of tarnishing are reduced to a minimum, and they are so supple for all their brilliance that they can almost pass through the traditional wedding ring of the fairy stories.

It is interesting to note that the line of this wrap, with its wide flounce follows the silhouette of the dresses over which it is worn, and which fashion has at last allowed to deviate slightly from the straight and narrow line.

grades is similar to that in thousands of rural schools in the United States.

It is hoped that the experiment may show that by providing the one-teacher school with standard term, equipment, teacher, and supervision, and by adopting course of study, textbooks, methods, and devices to rural-school needs, means may be devised whereby the advantages of small schools may be used to counter-balance their disadvantages and limitations.

Fifteen States Provide Education for Cripple Children.

Special legal provision for the education of crippled children has been made in 15 states of the Union according to information recently compiled in the Bureau of Education. Seven of these States, California, Connecticut, Iowa, Massachusetts, Nebraska, Ohio, and Wisconsin, have established State schools for the education of crippled children; six States, Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New Jersey, and New York, provide State aid for the establishment of special classes for such children; in Vermont the school authorities may provide for the instruction of crippled children at their homes; and in Oregon school districts having one or more crippled children must provide for their instruction "in a manner most suitable to advance their general education or civic or vocational intelligence."

Teachers College, Columbia University, has adopted the Old Quaker Grove School in Warren County, N. J., for a period of five years, according to reports received by the United States Bureau of Education. The principal occupations of the neighborhood are dairying and truck farming. Last year 20 children were enrolled in grades 1 to 8, and 30 in the first three grades. The large number of children in the lower grades is due to the presence of a considerable number of Polish families, largely young people, with children under 10 years of age. This heavy load of primary pupils has the advantage of compelling steady attention to the first and second grades, a group frequently neglected in one-teacher schools. The distribution of pupils in the upper

CRIMINAL COURT ROOM, CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—The curtain goes down today on another act of the Leopold-Loeb murder drama, to rise again late next week for the most gripping scene—when Chief Justice John R. Caverly imposes sentence on Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb for the murder of Robert Franks. No one in close touch with the day by day action of the murder hearing cares to hazard a guess as to the outcome—whether Justice Caverly will acquiesce in the demand of State's Attorney Robert Crowe for the death penalty or grant the pleas of Chief Defense Attorney Clarence Darrow for life in prison or take the third alternative that of declaring he is not satisfied as to the mental condition of the youths and ordering a jury to pass on their sanity.

The feeling is general that Justice Caverly will not take advantage of the third alternative. Crowe, who so far has argued for nearly two court days, will finish the argument by noon today, he said. Justice Caverly said he would spend a few days here at his hotel to read the several thousand pages of testimony and then retire to the country home of a friend to write his decision. He expects to impose sentence late next week.

Want Rangers To Keep Down Crime

AUSTIN, Aug. 28.—Request that a special ranger be a delegate to assist in keeping order and holding down lawlessness, alleged to be on the increase in the Big Lake Oil field in Reagan county, was made by a delegation of citizens from that county to Adjutant General T. D. Barton.

General Barton said that no definite action would be taken upon the request pending an investigation of conditions in the oil fields.

Barton also advised the delegation that he would send a ranger inspector from Fort McKavett, Menard county, to look over the situation.

ROTARIANS HEAR CONGRESSMAN JOHNSON AT LUNCHEON

The Rotary club held its weekly luncheon at the noon hour today at the Tople Cafe. The session was presided over by Vice President I. W. Keys, in the absence of President A. Hardy Eubanks who was attending the Ft. Worth meeting of thirteenth district Rotary officials.

E. M. Strange had charge of the program which was unusually enjoyable. A large attendance was present including many visitors.

Mrs. E. M. Strange rendered two beautiful solos in her own talented way, which were well received by those present.

Hon. Luther Johnson of Corsicana, Congressman from this district, was introduced and made the address of the occasion. He delivered a splendid address on "Our Congress and Its Character." He declared that it was now popular in many quarters to assail Congress as a body of Boiesvicks and the only reason that it had not been called by such a name until in recent years was because the word was not in vogue. He pointed out that constructive criticism was needed and welcome at all times but that hurtful and an erroneous criticism was damaging and the ultimate result would be to impair the efficiency of the houses of congress. He showed that Congress had always been criticized and quoted from an address by John Quincy Adams of the Eighteenth Congress who stated that when Texas was admitted into the Union that it was a serious blunder which would prove a menace to the welfare of the country.

The speaker stated that if the same things were said about the Chief Executive as are said about the Legislative branch of our government that the people would not stand for it. Taxes, he said, were the cause of the attack, it being generally believed that the law making body imposes taxes on the people to pay. Information is needed to correct the fault and the newspapers have been slow to give the acts of Congress the space which is given them in England for example. He pointed out that in that country the interest of the individual is buried in the interest of the country. In this nation, the interest of the individual predominates above society. A court tries a case in England and the usual thing is to find the individual guilty while in this country the general rule is that he is freed. Juries are thanked when they turn a man loose but seldom given an expression of gratitude when found guilty. He urged the spirit of fairness and intelligence to prevail in bringing about a better condition of affairs and a happier nation.

ARCTIC WATERS WIND TOSSED IN PATH OF AVIATORS

MAY HOP OFF
On Board U. S. S. Richmond, Aug. 22.—Favorable weather forecasts along the prospective route of the American flyers from Iqviut to Indian Harbor gave strength to hope today that the flyers will be able to take off tomorrow for the home ward hop.

ABOARD U. S. S. RICHMOND, Aug. 22.—A terrific storm lashing the arctic waters to fury along the route which the American flyers expect to hop to Labrador, may further delay the flight. The trip from Iqviut to Indian Harbor had already been cancelled until tomorrow, due to adverse weather reports and poor facilities for installation of new engines in the planes. The Richmond is now anchored off Indian Harbor. The gale now raging swung north from the main coast Tuesday and struck here Wednesday afternoon.

MURDER CHARGES FILED AGAINST MAN AFTER SHOOTING

FT. WORTH, Aug. 28.—Charge of murder was filed against Jess Teacock, 45, following the fatal shooting of his wife, 22, in the apartment of the divorced wife here this morning. According to Teacock's story to officers, his second wife, from whom he was separated, came to the apartment of Teacock's first wife, who was divorced three years ago and who was keeping the two years old child of Teacock and wife No. 2, and started an argument about the custody of the child. The woman opened fire on him with a revolver, Teacock told the officers and he wrested the gun away and shot her accidentally. The first Mrs. Teacock and the baby were in a downstairs room at the time of the shooting.

LOOT IS SOUGHT IN BIG MAIL ORDR HAUL

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—While William F. Fahy, expert sleuth of the post office department rested in the Kane county jail on charges of being the head of the gang which carried out the $2,000,000 mail robbery at Roundout, Ill., last June, apparently making no effort to obtain bail, operatives today renewed their efforts to discover the whereabouts of the loot. Fahy and James Murray, Chicago underworld character also under arrest, are believed to have taken most of the money in the excitement that followed accidental shooting of one member of the gang by another.

A search for safe deposit boxes in Fahy's name proved futile yesterday, the only box found containing nothing more than insurance policies and a few personal documents.

Operatives today planned to search further for women in the case. Mrs. Fahy, wife of the detective, slipped into her home under the very eyes of detectives and then left, taking with her a sheaf of documents. She has not been found since.

ALL IN HIS RAISING.

Homeward Bound Ford Denies He Gave Interview

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 28.—Henry Ford, homeward bound on his yacht in Lake Ontario, used the wireless last night to repudiate an interview defending the Klan, purported to have been given out by him in Montreal.

"Gave no interview to any one. Did not discuss the Klan in any manner whatsoever. Please make absolute denial of the false report," said the manufacturer's message to officials at his Dearborn office.

Ford officials on learning of the story doubted its authenticity and promptly wirelessly the manufacturer.

5,000 Hear Jack Walton's Address

PERRY, Ok., Aug. 28.—The largest crowd that ever attended a political meeting here heard former Governor Jack Walton speak last night. The crowd numbered approximately 5,000.

Walton devoted most of his speech in defending his administration while governor and made a mild attack against the Klan.

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 28.—The way was cleared for the selection of a republican gubernatorial candidate with the arrival here at the secretary of state's office of the formal declaration of the place by T. P. Lee of Houston. The selection of Lee's successor will be made at a session scheduled to start in Dallas September 5 following the democratic meeting here September 2.

Americans Win Against Wales

ON BOARD THE BERGENGARIA
Aug. 28.—"What will the Prince of Wales spring for his fellow passengers as a treat on the last night aboard?"

This question was consuming the feminine bevy as they anticipated—most of them—their last evening with the heir to the British throne. He had been a good fellow and they wanted one more play with him before he left the boat tomorrow.

After all his careful preparations, encouragement and training the Prince's team had lost in the heralded tug of war with equally matched men of Yale and Harvard. As a matter of fact, tug as they would the Britishers, mostly members of the Wales party, could not match the motive power of the American athletes on the polished deck.

Much of the time yesterday Wales devoted to the Berengaria's equipment. Accompanied by the captain of the ship he toured the engine room, the printing office and also visited the hospital room where operating is done when necessary. When the physician in charge informed his Royal visitor that an operation had been performed there two months ago, the Prince rapped on a wooden door panel. "I'm touching wood," he said. "Let's hope there will be none this trip."

Drowned Bodies Not Recovered

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Aug. 28. A thorough search of the Canadian river near Spencer yesterday afternoon failed to reveal the bodies of Charles Keller and his two sons, believed to have drowned themselves.

Keller left his home last Friday after having acted strangely for several hours. His wife sent their two sons, 7 and 16, in pursuit. None ever returned.

Mrs. Keller did not report their disappearance until yesterday because she had been confined at home with illness.

Keller had $125 with him when he left, his wife said.

RETURNED TO MEXIA AFTER THIRTY THREE YEARS IN OKLAHOMA

W. J. Cook and family left Mexia about 33 years ago and went to Oklahoma where they have lived until a few days ago, when they returned to Mexia to again take up their residence here.

Mr. Cook is a building contractor, and will pursue that business here. Mrs. Cook is a sister of W. D. Pittman. They have a daughter, Mrs. Carpenter, bookkeeper with the Berry-Earnett Grocery Company, who went up to Oklahoma to accompany them "home."

We welcome this good family back to a different Mexia than that which they left a third of a century ago.

Congressman Luther Johnson returned to Corsicana this afternoon following his visit here in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Berry and after addressing the Rotarians at noon.

GREAT SEA DOGS IN PORT AFTER LASHING IN STORM

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Two great ocean liners battered by giant seas in a terrific storm which raged in the Atlantic Tuesday were in port here today while more than fifty of their passengers suffered from injuries when they were thrown about by the force of great waves which all but engulfed the ships.

The Arabic of the White Star line which radioed for ambulances to meet her at the dock, was the most severely hit and twelve of her passengers were taken to hospitals at once when she docked late yesterday. Twenty-four others were treated by surgeons and taken to their homes or hotels.

The Homeric of the same line also was hard hit and seven of her passengers were injured.

The Arabic was a veritable hospital ship as she steamed into port, more than three score of her passengers stretched out on mattresses on deck.

Sea captains said the storm was the worst they had encountered and additional stories of the fury of the hurricane were expected as other liners limped into port.

Shipping men feared that smaller vessels caught in the storm may have suffered even more severely than the big liners.

A new storm was reported moving northward from the West Indian hurricane zone.

The Danish steamer Nordfarer, en route from South American ports reported that her captain had been washed from the bridge and lost.

The captain of the Dohney tanker Gerro Ebanno also was blown from his bridge but managed to cling to a lower deck rail. A member of the crew was blown overboard and lost.

Passengers of the Arabic told a thrilling story of hours of terror at sea when the storm struck the big liner. So great was the force of the wind and waves that the captain finally decided to heave to in the wind and ride out the gale.

Bulk heads were smashed, cabins flooded sections of the ship's rails torn away and many ventilators blown loose.

Passengers, many of whom were seasick in their berths, were hurled to the floor and many of them struck by flying furniture and timbers.

The storm came on at 36 miles an hour Tuesday, a huge wave breaking over the ship and nearly engulfing her. Life boats torn away and many windows smashed. Tons of water entered the vessel, some of the waves even penetrating the engine room.

One fireman dashed against a beam and his back broken.

A seaman, making his way along the wave-washed decks, was washed overboard and then hurled back.

The same wave smashed through the lounge room where Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Dickens of La Crosse, Wis. were sitting with their children. Dickens and one of his sons were swept clear of the room and to the deck, but managed to keep from going overboard by clinging to a life boat.

FROM PRINCE BUBESCO'S JAMES EADS HOWE, SENATOR CARLISLE, SENATOR GLASS, SENATOR CROWE

Trouble between the State of Maryland and Prince Bibesco, Rumanian Minister to the United States, accused of speeding, has been ended by a letter of regret from the Prince and a promise to speed no more. U. S. Senator Carlisle Glass, of Virginia, has retired to his country home, near Lynchburg, for two months' rest ordered by his physician. James Eads Howe, of St. Louis, "millionaire hobo," grandson of the builder of the first bridge over the Mississippi, at St. Louis, has been married there to his secretary, Miss Ingebert Sorenson. U. S. Senator James Couzens, backed by La Follette in his race for reelection, and whose Republicanism has been questioned by his enemies because of his affiliation with the La Follette bloc in the Senate, will support President Coolidge in the coming election.

storm was felt the ship's surgeon organized a volunteer hospital crew and ordered whiskey distributed to those most severely drenched. There were 616 passengers aboard and not one of them escaped shock from the force of the storm.

Captain Metcalfe of the Homeric said the storm was severe for about six hours and that at times the wind seemed to blow from all points of the compass.

At times the wind reached a velocity of 90 miles an hour and the waves were from 40 to 65 feet high.

The Giuseppe Verdi of the Italian trans-Atlantic line also was caught in the storm and A. L. Mohler, former president of the Union Pacific railroad struck his head on a chair when thrown down.

The Arabic came from Hamburg, via Southampton, Cherbourg and Halifax and it was between the latter port and New York that she encountered the hurricane.

Captain Hickson described the storm as the worst he ever experienced.

"Standing on the bridge," said the captain, "I figured that the crest of the waves was 65 feet above the trough of the sea. When I had to look up to see the top of a huge comb that broke over the crew's nest, 35 feet above me."

"The ship was awash fore and aft with hundreds of tons of water surging along her decks."

It was this huge wave that did most of the damage to the ship.

Hugh F. Mackie of Los Angeles was sitting in the lounge with his wife and two young daughters when the wave struck.

Passengers and furniture were thrown into tangled confusion, he said, and several persons were injured.

The Mackies remained pinned behind a settee for several hours fearing to move lest they be struck by flying furniture.

Texas Company Is Now Paying For All Pipe Line Runs

The Texas Pipe Line Company is now paying for all oil runs in its lines in this field and in all other East, Central and North Texas producing districts.

The order was effective Tuesday morning.

Up to Wednesday afternoon none of the other pipeline companies had announced any change in their proration policies, though the impression was general that the change would be general.

The Texas Company is now paying $1.50 for the top grades of North, East and Central Texas oil. No announcement was made in Tuesday's order as to what course would be followed with the 50 per cent of runs that had been stored by the company. At the same time of the proration the company retained an option to purchase stored oil.

The Magnolia, which pays the lowest price for crude, has never prorated. Neither has the Gulf, which pays the poster price, nor the Humble, whose prices are in between. The Texas Company action leaves only the Prairie and Sinclair holding to this policy in North Texas.

Crowe Prepares Greatest Speech

By Edward C. Deer
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
CHICAGO, Ill., August 27.—State Attorney Robert E. Crowe will make his final demand today that Justice John R. Caverly send Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb to the gallows.

Far into the night Tuesday Crowe worked putting the final touches on his preparation for his great speech in his career. He has not exhausted his stock of invectives and, if he carries out his intention, today's portion of his death plea will be even more biting and intense than his previous efforts.

"I am determined that the wealth of these two young men's families and the peculiar philosophy of their counsel, Clarence S. Darrow shall not save these murderers from hanging, for any individuals ever deserved to hang, Loeb and Leopold do," Crowe told the United Press.

The State's Attorney expects to finish his argument some time this afternoon.

At the conclusion of the argument Justice Caverly will announce a continuance of at least a week, if he carries out his plans. He and Mrs. Caverly will leave Chicago soon afterwards for an undisclosed destination in order that he may study the evidence without interruption.

Hon. I. W. Keys is among fans attending the baseball game at Corsicana today.

Miss Clara Parsons of Waco is a delightful guest in the home of Mrs. E. M. Strange of this city.

A. H. Eubanks and J. W. Elliott are Ft. Worth visitors today.

Rev. and Mrs. Winnif Coolidge were visitors here today and while in town were guests of Dr. Duke Pittman at the Rotary luncheon. Rev.

Winn is pastor of the Coolidge Methodist church, one of the liveliest congregations in the Corsicana district.

WHITE SUCCEEDS WOOD AS S. A. COMMANDER

Jesse McLendon, President of the Salvation Army Directory Board here and other directors are being notified that Lieut. Colonel Edwy White of Milwaukee has been appointed successor to Lieut. Colonel George Wood as Commander of the Southwestern Division of the Salvation Army, and will be installed on September 3.

Announcement was made also that effective Sept. 1, the Southwestern Division, which consists of the states of Texas and Louisiana and part of Arkansas, will be divided, and a new territory formed, to be known as the Gulf Division.

The new Division will be composed of the entire state of Louisiana and a string of South Texas counties on the Gulf coast.

Houston, Texas will be headquarters of the new division. Adj. Charles Hepper who now is in Detroit, Mich., has been appointed Commander of the Gulf Division and will be installed the first week in September.

Colonel Alexander Damon, of Chicago, Chief Secretary of the Salvation Army in the Central Territory, will conduct the installments of the two new divisional commanders.

Other Texas cities to be placed under the jurisdiction of Houston headquarters are Beaumont, Port Arthur, Orange and Galveston in addition to all Salvation Army activities in cities and counties along the Gulf coast.

Salvation Army officers from all cities of Texas and Louisiana will gather at Dallas, Friday, Aug. 29, for the annual Divisional Congress and officer's council lasting four days. Many transfers of corps officers are to be made, Colonel Wood announced, and the officers will go from the council to their new assignments.

A gigantic citizens' appreciation meeting to honor Colonel Wood is being planned by Dallas civic leaders. This meeting will be held in the City Temple Tuesday night, September 2. Representatives of the city, county and the states of Texas and Louisiana are on the program, Edward M. Crane is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

NATURE BUILT LARGEST GAS TANK IN THE WORLD

Mothers Nature supplies both the gas and the holder in a remarkable structure near Springfield, N. Y., 25 miles south of Buffalo, says the Texas Public Service Information Committee.

The "tank" resembles a gigantic sponge in a glass jar. A number of small connected underground cavities, enclosed in a shell of impervious stone, make up this natural gas holder, which has a capacity twenty times as much as any man-made gas tank. The natural tank will hold more than 400,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

Originally the center of the Bear natural gas field, now depleted, the tank is used as a holder for gas from other wells. The natural gas is pumped in during the summer for the use in the winter, when the demand exceeds the supply.

The Zoar field was first developed in 1907. By 1918 the supplies of natural gas had increased below the point of usefulness, and as an experiment 45,000,000 cubic feet of gas from other wells was pumped in. During the following winter the gas was pumped out, and the meter measurements showed that none had been lost. Since then as much as 350,000,000 cubic feet at one time have been stored in this unique tank.

GAS SHUT OFF SUNDAY
On account of the Lone Star Gas Co. putting their mains in shape for the winter, they will shut off the gas from eight o'clock Sunday morning until five o'clock in the afternoon, August 31, 1924.—Mexia Oil and Gas. Co. 2813

HOME DRESSMAKING

The Plait Sets a Definite Vogue

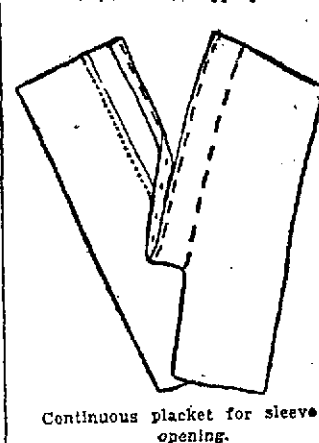

A Blouse for Early Autumn
The plait is one of the trimming notes that has come to stay, for it is as strongly accented in advance modes for Fall as it has been in the styles of the passing season. This design is suitable to reproduction in any of the silks, satins or crepes.

Plaits raise this simple Paris-design blouse to a high degree of distinction. They are arranged in groups down either side of the front in an unbroken line, the band which fits the blouse to the hips about the waist extending only around the sides and back.

The neck is finished with a standing collar and the long sleeves are trimmed with arm-back cuffs. The plaits in the sleeves are finished with self-facings, as shown in the illustration. The continuous placket is not difficult to make, but it requires care. After the sleeve has been slashed, cut a facing twice the width of that the finished facing is to be, allowing 1/4 of an inch for the seam and turning. Baste the stitch and the right side of the facing to the right side of the sleeve in a straight continuous line from end to end of the slash. Make the seam just as narrow as it is possible to make it, then fold under the unsewed edge of the facing about 1/4 of an inch and baste.

Next, crease the seam toward the facing and baste down the edge of the fold so that it covers the seam. Baste from the top of the left-hand portion of the placket to the end of the slash only. Do not continue the basting on the right-hand side. Crease to the exact center of the entire facing and baste the crease from end to end. The work may now be finished with fine hemming stitches. Buttonholes are worked in the cuffs, or loops may be used. Worn with a plaited skirt of crepe, flannel, or kasha, this blouse makes a dressy costume, yet it is appropriate for sports wear. Plaits are liked more than ever by the designers of clever garments, because there is perhaps no other form of trimming so susceptible to variation without adding considerably to the expense of a garment.

Continuous placket for sleeve opening.

If desired the back of the blouse may be plaited in the same way, but this is not advisable unless the wearer of the blouse is built upon slender lines. If preferred the high collar may be omitted and the neck cut in V-shape, underlaid and rolled back to form revers.

COMING WEDDING TO JOIN FAMED MEXICAN FAMILIES

(By International News Service)
NOGALES, Ariz., Aug. 28.—Two of the most prominent families in Mexico will be united in Guaymas, Sonora, Mexico, when the marriage of Miss Anita Maytorena, of this city, to Antonio Villaseñor, Mexico City banker, takes place September 15. Miss Maytorena is a niece of Pepe Maytorena, former Governor of Sonora and now a resident of Los Angeles, California.

BIKE VS. BOULDER.

DALLAS, Aug. 28.—Kind-heartedness of Bobby Trample, 12, for Fort Worth, landed the youngster in an emergency hospital here with a flock of bruises after his bike came a cropper on the Dallas-Fort Worth pike. His mother had given him three dollars to finance his trip to Dallas on the interurban. Bobby's brother could not go along, so Bobby split the money with him and decided to make the trip on his bicycle.

En route he had a collision with a boulder, and was brought here by a motorist. Hospital attaches financed his return trip to Fort Worth via jitney.

THE WORLD FLIGHT

The U. S. world flight aviators are due to start on their last perilous leap to the American continent today. The outcome of the flight will be watched with interest. The value of great achievements is seldom known to the generation that lives during its accomplishments and just what benefit to humanity the world tour will be only time can prove.

It has been said that tragedy is an almost inseparable companion of great achievement. Success in perilous enterprises is usually precluded by the death of men who failed, or is accompanied by the loss of life of some of those who brought it about. The development of the airplane cost many lives. Magellan whose ships first navigated the globe was himself slain in an obscure skirmish in the Philippines before the voyage was two thirds done. It will be both pleasing and surprising if the encircling of the earth by air should be completed without being marred by the sombre touch of tragedy.

There have been numerous narrow escapes. The U. S. squadron started after the most careful preparations of men and machines, despite which a series of accidents befell its leader until he and a Texas boy, his companion in his plane, narrowly escaped death in the frozen northwest. After successfully crossing the Pacific and the continents of Asia and Europe, another member of the squadron was forced down in the Atlantic and was fortunate to escape alive.

Though fliers of other nations started out with single machines and with less extensive preparations and, like the Americans, have met with accidents and troubles galore, none of them have lost their lives so far though one by one they have been eliminated from the race after some narrow escape.

Reagan County is now going through some of the experience Mexia passed through in the early days of the oil boom. The Rangers are asked for there and are undoubtedly needed. Such incidents may open the eyes to those who oppose the Ranger force and say they will do away with it and cause them to calculate long and seriously before they dispense with this needed branch of our law enforcement bodies. Of course, the Ranger force is not perfect, but under conscientious and intelligent leadership that watches its make up carefully and ousts all unworthy members, it will serve a purpose in the future in this big state just like it has in all the harrowing hardships of the past.

Parents should warn their children against the destruction of property. The Hughes Park play apparatus that has brought so much joy to hundreds of boys and girls this Summer is being demolished rapidly by thoughtless urchins. According to R. D. Morgan of the city government, the property has almost been ruined and will be before the end of the fall, if parental advice is not administered promptly and properly.

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

THE AVERAGE CITIZEN.

Seemingly oblivious to the fact that he, himself, is alone responsible for the mounting size of his annual tax bill, the average citizen is attaining a state of mind where he is exerting merely a negative influence in public affairs. Because he has to pay so much to operate his government, he takes it out in murmuring about cost, when, either by commission or omission, he alone authorized the expenditures. He castigates and condemns the tax assessor and collector for doing neither more nor less than the work he, himself, imposed upon them. Through his ballot he has absolute control, yet, while costs of government, country, city, district, and State keep piling up beyond all reason, he permits irrelevant issues to direct his vote knowing all the while that taxes, like a cancerous disease, is eating at the vitals of industry.

When we contemplate the fact that the per capita annual tax in Texas has leaped from $21.07 in 1912 to more than $75.00 in 1924 it is, or at least should be, enough to compel us to halt and debate the wisdom of our course. If it were possible for the books of the State and local government to be audited and, a few weeks before election, the major items of expense, and the object of such expenditures published so that every voter would know where, when and how his tax money has been used and who is responsible, there would quickly follow such an arrest of the process of public spending as would astonish no one quite so much as the average citizen himself.

The chief trouble now is that hardly one voter in ten thousand has the remotest idea of how much money is collected, how it is disbursed, or what the final benefits, if any, to the public. Being uninformed he has no way of gaining a clear conception of the exact situation. Otherwise he would surely act differently.

One of the leading causes for limitless demands upon tax payers is the one of aping other communities. Let some wealthy city start some new fangled service in government and in a remarkably short time less fortunate communities are adopting it whether it can be afforded or not. Yet we know full well that while some things may be justifiable in one community they may lead to bankruptcy in another—Willacy's Facts and Fiction.

State Democratic Committee Called To Meet at Austin

The democratic state executive committee will meet at the Stephen F. Austin hotel in Austin next Monday at 10 a. m., according to Secretary Joe Hale, who yesterday received the call by wire from Chairman Frank C. Davis of San Antonio. Mr. Hale will submit to the committee one complete set of returns from the 252 counties of Texas on the run-off primary, and also his figures from duplicate returns which he has asked the county democratic chairman to send him. This is the first time he has asked for duplicate returns. He expects to have his figures ready by Saturday afternoon, to check with the committee figures from the official returns, which he will not open except in the presence of the committee.

At the last meeting of the executive committee a sub-committee was appointed to make arrangements for the state convention to be held at Austin next Tuesday, and to recommend temporary officers. This committee will report Monday.

Mr. Hale said that he did not know what action would be taken on the protest filed last week against the committee reporting on the nomination of Mrs. Ferguson. The protester held that both Mrs. Ferguson and Mr. Robertson were ineligible for the nomination.

DID MILE. SUZANNE'S COURAGE FAIL?

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—One of the most unusual and least expected happenings of the mad rush of big summer sporting events this season was the default of Mile. Suzanne Lenglen in the middle of the Wimbledon tournament and the withdrawal of her entry before the Olympic tennis championship in Paris.

Her default at Wimbledon took away from what she had claimed was a recognized world's championship, although she can fall back upon the claim that she was not beaten and that she will be the champion as long as she is not beaten by any rivals who aspire to the title.

When she decided to quit Wimbledon, after Miss Elizabeth Ryan, the former California woman, had given her the fight of her life, her wisdom was not questioned and her motives caused no suspicion. It was accepted in London tennis circles that the French girl did not feel quite up to her game and that she wanted to save herself for the Olympic games. The loss by default of her Wimbledon championship was considered a very serious step, but the opportunity of winning the Olympic championship had its good points.

The same stars that played at Wimbledon were entered in the Olympic matches and there were additional entries from other nations that gave the Olympic officials good reasons for advancing the matches as being for the world's championship.

Then, also, Mile. Lenglen by priming herself for the Paris games could have claimed the world's championship and she could have won one first place and probably three or four in the singles, doubles and mixed doubles.

There must have been good reasons for her refusal to take advantage of the fine opportunity for

He is a healthy, normal boy and very freckled.

Further glory that were offered in the Olympic matches. By elimination it might be advanced that she was physically unfit, as she claimed, or that she is through as a champion player. It is all up to the individual to form an opinion.

Program Committee Named For Lions

A great amount of enthusiasm and interest is being shown by the Lions over their come back that will be staged September the 5th. Secretary Cason has appointed Lions Landrum, Reeves, Boyd, Werner and Mosley as a program committee for the month of September. Lion Landrum as chairman of the committee is planning a great surprise for the Lions at the first meeting which promises to start the season off with the usual bang. The Lions now are back from their trips to markets and vacations and are all very anxious to get into the harness for another year.

Atlanta Rows Over Women's Knickers

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 28.—The war against women's knickers has reached Atlanta.

It all was precipitated by two wives who filed petitions for divorce because of this much-discussed piece of raiment. One wanted her freedom because her hubby became rather rough after she donned knickers, the other because her husband used violence when she refused to wear them and hike around the world with him.

While the elite of Atlanta worried little about the Courts official decisions to be handed down in these cases, members of this circle did have considerable to say about "women's rights" and their "freedom."

"Let them wear knickers," said Mrs. Perry Adair, Southern social leader. "They lead to a more natural life for women and girls."

"I believe in skirts for women," declared Mrs. Norman Sharp, president of the Atlanta Woman's Club. "Trousers for women are unbecoming and unsuitable."

"They are all right in their place," said Principal Llewellyn Scott, of the Washington Seminary. "They should not be worn on the streets. Too many girls wear trousers generally and with the full intention of attracting attention."

We will promptly and cheerfully return your money not only for every yard of Everfast Suitsing which, for any reason, does not hold its color, but also THE COST OF MAKING THE GARMENT.

Everfast Suitsing has been rubbed and scrubbed with the strongest kinds of laundry soap, boiled in washing soda, and exposed for weeks to sun, wind, rain and salt air without losing color in the slightest degree.

Everfast Suitsing is piece-dyed by a special process. It is one yard wide—macerized—and comes in all popular colors. The name "Everfast" is stamped every yard in the selvedge.

Next time you are in the piece goods department, ask for a sample swatch of Everfast. Take it home, test it in any way you like and prove to yourself that here at last is an absolutely fast-color, wash fabric.

EAST TEXAS LOOP CHAMPS WIN EXCITING BATTLE IN OILERS' HOME TOWN, 6-4

Fans from Mexia and other Texas Association points forgathered Wednesday to see the stellar work of Pop Jackson and other Tyler Trojans when they defeated the Corsicana club of the Texas Association. About 500 Tylerites witnessed the game, marking the opening of the seven days series, and participated in the demonstrations prior to the game and contributed the largest volume of noise at the conclusion when they left for their homes, carrying the bacon with them. At Tyler, last night, it is safe to believe that the shouting continued until the tiny hours of the morning. Mexia fans were surprised at the outcome.

The crowd gathered to see the opener was estimated at from 3500 to 4000. Tyler won the spectacular ball game by a score of 6 to 4. "Pop" Jackson was wholly responsible for four of the six runs and four of the first five, the other coming in the ninth after the issue for the day had already been settled.

Goobar Hollis was manager Vann's selection for the day. Hollis, as a rule, a great pitcher, made three mistakes today when in tight places. He pitched three balls that should never have been pitched. He pitched three balls that a wise hurler would never have thrown and the three pitched balls cost Corsicana a ball game, despite their super and almost successful efforts to come back, for the Oilers fought a game uphill fight, but the 5-run handicap was too much even for the game efforts of the Oilers. Hollis started well. He retired the first two men in the first inning rather easily and seemed to have considerable stuff. His curve ball seemed to be breaking in a splendid fashion. Williams, the third man up, hit a high fly to left-center, which should have been a fairly easy out, but it went for two bases.

Then up stepped Mr. Jackson, a gentleman of 41 summers, who still has the speed of many of the youngsters. Hollis got in a hole on the crafty old gentleman. The count grew to three and one, then to three and two. Now Hollis sent up a groover, and away the spear sailed over the left field fence, a crashing line drive, the blow accounted for two runs.

In the second stanza Hollis got in a hole on "Pop" Kitchens. He also broke one squarely over the middle for this old man. Result, another home run over the left field fence, being fair by barely a foot. In the third inning Donaldson singled, but Longnecker and Williams were retired in order. Now came "General Stonewall" again. One ball, over the outside. Jackson took it but took a cut at the next curve. Now Hollis endeavored to breeze one by the veteran. It was a decision that really cost Corsicana the ball game, for once more the grizzled veteran who started his baseball career in 1924, took a toe-hold and sent, the horsehide sailing over the garden wall, while the score board in left field announced that the visitors' total for the day had mounted to five. And when the next innings began the Corsicana Oilers were greeted by a new pitcher, none other than Harvey Munns, and this star who was not expected to do much in the series, pitched magnificent baseball. Only three hits were made off his delivery, all singles and the only score by Tyler in the six innings he worked came in the six innings he worked came in the ninth on a double steal put on by Jackson and Williams.

COSTLY TO BE "LADY."

(By International News Service.) ALTOONA, Pa., Aug. 28.—It costs sixty-four cents more a year to be a "lady" in Blair County than it does to be a "housewife." This is the ruling of the County Commissioners in fixing the occupation tax and as a result "ladies" will pay $1.13, while housewives will pay 49 cents. And bricklayers get the classification of professional men, because they are making as much money.

THE BABY

It is to be expected that bottle fed infants will gain as rapidly as those who are nursed?

They seldom do so during the first month; after that time under favorable circumstances the gain is usually quite as regular, and during the latter half of the first year it is likely to be more continuous than in a nursing infant, because the latter usually loses weight at the time of weaning.

A few weeks is required for the digestion of the infant to become accustomed to cow's milk, and until this is accomplished it is necessary to make the milk very weak or the child's digestion will be upset.

PARIS STYLE HINTS

By ALICE LANGELEIR,

International News Service Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—In the matter of fashionable fabrics, kasha-cloth seems to be an outstanding feature of all the new collections now being shown.

Rodier, Paris' famous fabric maker, is showing three kinds of kasha this season—kasha-duvetine, ziblikasha and kashadrap. They make up the bulk of all the smart frocks and coats that will be worn for winter. Patou has really made more variety by employing different kinds of embroidery on the material itself. He is using the plaid kasha for all manner of sport costumes and again for jumpers to match tailored costumes. Kasha appears in a frock embroidered in Indian design. In another it is corded and quilted and in still another it is embroidered in metal threads.

For three-piece costumes the kasha plaids are combined with one-tone kasha. The plaid is also used extensively for winter coats.

A new panne velvet to imitate leopard and tiger-skin is a novelty of the season. Lenief uses it for a dress and the lining of a coat. He is also using some charming velvets with colored stripes for afternoon gowns.

Velvet gives promise to be very popular for afternoon as well as evening frocks. Every designer is using it in every color. Evening dresses are often of radium panne in delicate colors, hyacinthine blue, geranium pink and soft green. Lenief is using a good deal of black velvet often trimmed in bright crimson with gold embroidery. Ottoman silk appears in long coats and jackets.

Tollmann is showing much lace dyed in pastel shades and silver and gold gorgeously embroidered in multi-colored spangles in flower design for evening wear. Another house is featuring a chiffon gown painted in curious sunflower design which shades from the most delicate tones of red to palest pink. Silver cloth is the Summer lame par excellence and silver remains as the foundation in the form of underslips which gleam through the material in a fascinating manner. An evening gown of silver embroidered fillet over a silver slip and another of gold tulle over a gold slip are striking in the use of these fabrics.

Never hold a nail for your wife to strike it.

NEW FOOTBALL RULES AFFECT STYLE OF PLAY

Teams Using Shift Formation and Forward Pass May Have to Change.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Changes in the football rules set out in the latest edition of the Football Guide will be studied with a great deal of interest by those teams which have perfected shift formations and those which have developed the forward pass to its highest art.

Eleven like those representing Penn State, an adept at passing, and Georgia Tech, which has evolved and used for years a shift play which has caused a great amount of criticism, undoubtedly will find it to their good fortune to study carefully the words written into these sections governing these styles of play.

Other changes have been written into the code, but these probably are the most important, in the opinion of good judges of the game.

The Tech shift is one which was devised and put into execution by John Heisman when he first started the "Golden Tornado" on its way to national attention. It consists of a jump by practically the entire team, and the ball is snapped in such perfect time with the movements of line and back that the play has caused great mental distress on the part of the officials who were not familiar with it. Frequent penalties have been inflicted on the Georgians when playing in territories where the formation was not so clearly understood.

In attempting to iron out this sort of play, the rules committee also took under consideration that part of the text which permitted one player to be in motion behind the line of scrimmage. The result of this often was the spectacle of some halfback cutting a wide arc behind the forwards, yelling a conglomeration of sounds as he ran, finally bisecting the arc behind the center to receive the ball and shoot into some place selected by signal.

Under the new rules the shift play is permitted, but every man engaged in the formation must have stopped long enough to satisfy the official in charge that he was standing still when the ball was snapped. This puts the burden squarely on the official, and whether the captain of the opposing team likes it or not, his protest will have to yield to what the judge of play says.

In the new rules written into the section allowing use of the forward pass players of the team making the pass who are ineligible to receive the ball must keep out of the way of the defenders under penalty of interfering with the maneuver. This was written in, it was explained, to prevent formations made for the purpose of screening the pass. Several teams became adept at covering the actions of a clever forward passer.

A new section also is devoted to the use of braces. Shoulder braces must be made of material not deemed heavy enough to cause damage to the anatomies of opposing players, or the men wearing them will

FASHIONS and functions have way of reflecting each others' characteristics. Judging by the advance reports, this will be a season of unparalleled brilliance, for never have fabrics been as gorgeous as those originated for the Fall and Winter.

Tinsels, especially, will lend their brilliance to formal occasions this winter. There are tinsels in gold and silver, tinsels on satin surface, on crepe grounds, and printed tinsels. Particularly favored for evening wear are the tinsel brocades, such as used in this elaborate and beautiful evening mantle, which combines a blue and silver brocade, upper portion, with a flounce and lower sleeves of plain blue. The blue is one of the new rich Chinese blues, called Mandarin, and the omnipresent Chinese influence is also apparent in the wide, loose sleeves. Trimings add its richness to the ensemble.

The notable features about the new tinsel fabrics according to Henri Creange, Cheney authority, is that their threads are so heavily plated that the chances of tarnishing are reduced to a minimum, and they are as supple for all their brilliance that they can almost pass through the traditional wedding ring of the fairy stories.

It is interesting to note that the line of this wrap, with its wide flounce follows the silhouette of the dresses over which it is worn, and which fashion has at last allowed to deviate slightly from the straight and narrow line.

be barred from the game if they cannot find substitutes.

To Devise Means of Improving Rural Schools.

Teachers College, Columbia University, has adopted the Old Quaker Grove School in Warren County, N. J., for a period of five years, according to reports received by the United States Bureau of Education. The principal occupations of the neighborhood are dairying and truck farming. Last year 20 children were enrolled in grades 4 to 8, and 30 in the first three grades. The large number of children in the lower grades is due to the presence of a considerable number of Polish families, largely young people, with children under 10 years of age. This heavy load of primary pupils has the advantage of compelling steady attention to the first and second grades, a group frequently neglected in one-teacher schools. The distribution of pupils in the upper grades is similar to that in thousands of rural schools in the United States.

It is hoped that the experiment may show that by providing the one-teacher school with standard term, equipment, teacher, and supervision, and by adopting course of study, textbooks, methods, and devices to rural-school needs, means may be devised whereby the advantages of small schools may be used to counter-balance their disadvantages and limitations.

Fifteen States Provide Education for Cripple Children.

Special legal provision for the education of crippled children has been made in 15 states of the Union according to information recently compiled in the Bureau of Education. Seven of these States, California, Connecticut, Iowa, Massachusetts, Nebraska, Ohio, and Wisconsin, have established State schools for the education of crippled children; six States, Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New Jersey, and New York, provide State aid for the establishment of special classes for such children; in Vermont the school authorities may provide for the instruction of crippled children at their homes; and in Oregon school districts having one or more crippled children must provide for their instruction "in a manner most suitable to advance their general education or civic or vocational intelligence."

PASSING PLANE INJURES WOMAN

POINT PLEASANT, N. J., Aug. 27.—Mrs. Emily Roseboro sustained a broken leg when she was jerked from her feet in her back yard by a wire dangling from a passing airplane. She said the machine failed to stop following the accident.

Mrs. Dr. E. F. Hamm and children have been on a visit to Greenville, with relatives there, for the past several days.
